CALL GROWING FOR PROBE OF JONES, WALLACE

Legislators Swell Demands For Investigation as New Charges Fly.

WHITE HOUSE IGNORED

Secretary of Commerce Says Vice President Lies, Squanders Taxes.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Congressional demands for an immediate investigation of the pitched battle between Secretary of Commerce Jesse H. Jones and Vice President Henry A. Wallace grew in volume today after Jones re-opened the controversy with a new and bitter attack on the vice president.

Flinging White House advice to the winds amid reports that he cared very little whether President Roosevelt asked him to resign or not, Jones accused Wallace of uttering "half truths" and "falsehoods" and squandering the taxpayers' money.

Jones requested Sen. Carter Glass (D.) Va., chairman of the senate appropriations committee to place in the committee's permanent records a 30-page refutation of Wallace's charges that Jones' Reconstruction Finance corporation has blacked out the program of the vice president's board of economic warfare to stockpile critical war materials.

Sen. H. Styles Bridges (R.) N. H., sponsor of a senate resolution calling for a probe of the bitter quarrel in the New Deal official family, declared that "the latest Jones statement is conclusive evidence of the need for a congressional investigation."

"The sooner the facts are known, the clearer cut course we will be able to follow in the war program," Bridges said. "Controversies like those between the two key people of the Roosevelt

Newsprint Use Ordered Cut By 5 Per Cent By WPB.

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—The War Production board today ordered newspaper publishers to make further cuts ranging up to 5 per cent for large consumers in their consumption of newsprint during the third quarter.

The reduction, officials pointed out, follows recommendations made by the newspaper industry advisory committee announced by the WPB last month.

Under the original order of December, 1942, newspapers were limited each quarter to 100 per cent of the tonnage of paper used in printing their net paid circulation during the corresponding quarter of 1941, plus a 3 per cent allowance for production waste. WPB said, however, that this (it would have meant a 10 per cent cut) was not accomplished and a further cut was found necessary.

JAPS BLAMED

Wooster Man Ends Life After Long Imprisonment.

WOOSTER—(INS)—Five month's imprisonment by the Japanese today was believed responsible for the suicide of Dr. J. F. Steiner, 59, returned Chinese missionary whose body was found at his Wooster home.

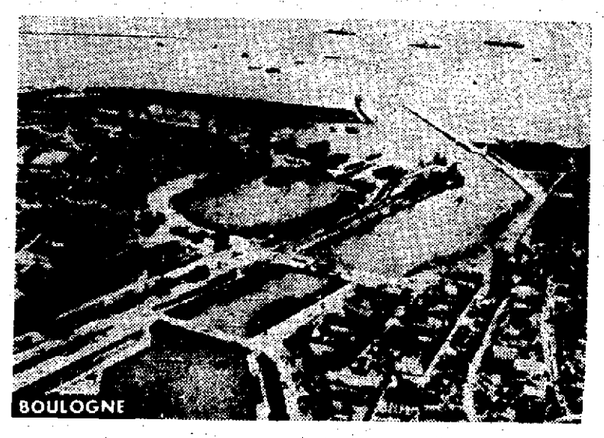
Coroner L. A. Adair today returned a verdict of suicide and friends explained that Dr. Steiner had been weakened by his confinement after the fall of Hong Kong. A missionary in China for 21 years, he had returned to this country on the exchange ship Gripsholm. Services were to be held today at Pandora, O., where he was born.

PILOT DIES IN AUTO

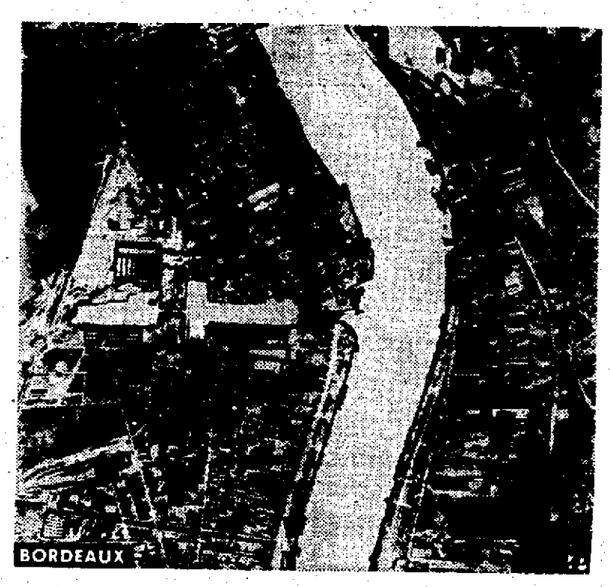
KANSAS CITY —(AP)— Capt. W. A. Hedenquist, 24, airpline pilot and former operator of a flying school at East Liverpool, O., is dead—the victim of an automobile crash.

Possible Invasion Ports on Continent

Here are air views of four great French seaports which have been ripped repeatedly by Allied air fleets and which, if plans call for invasion from the west, may soon be scenes of fierce air, sea and land fighting as United Nations forces seek to establish beach-heads.



On the English channel, Boulogne has fine beaches for invasion but it rises upward from the sea, has strong natural defenses and is well-fortified. The English coast can be seen from its hills. Its normal population is 260,000.



On the Garonne river in southwest France, 60 miles from the Atlantic, Bordeaux was a favorite landing port for the A. E. F. of World War I. It has a fine harbor with an electrically controlled 25,000 ton floating dock. Its population is 300,000.

Second largest seaport of France, Le Havre stands on the Seine's estuary. Its harbor, formed in part by a huge dam, is barely 300 feet wide and is believed to be strengthened by forts and batteries. Its population is 160,000.

Foggy and chalk-cliffed Dieppe was so named by the Normans because of its deep, sheltered position made by the Arques river estuary. Once France's leading naval base but now a minor port, it has already been tested by Commandos for invasion.

U. S. ALLOTS CITY $19,215 FOR NURSERIES

Mansfield School Board Gets Fund To Care For Children of War Workers.

PICK OUT SITES

Schools To Be Situated at Convenient Locations; Fee System Planned.

The Mansfield board of education today was allocated $19,215 in federal funds for a $42,475 day nursery school in the city to provide for the care of the children of parents who are employed in war plants.

Announcement of government approval of the project was made by Congressman J. Harry McGregor of the 17th district. Application for the funds was submitted last April.

Under the plan set up by the board, the remaining cost above the government grant would be financed from fees charged parents and from school funds.

When the application was made, the $42,475 project was set up for a seven-month period from June 1 to Dec. 31 of this year. Since the grant has just been made, however, the board is expected to move the period ahead two or three months.

A maximum of five nursery schools to care for 210 children will be available under the program. Mothers of children in the two-to-six age limit will be able to leave the children at the nurseries during the day and evening under the care of instructors and nurses. Meals will be provided and the children's health will be checked at regular intervals.

The schools will be located at convenient sites throughout the city and the cost to parents would be small. Supt. W. L. Miller of the Mansfield schools suggested a charge of 50 cents per day per child.

The nursery school plan is in operation in other war centers and has proved a satisfactory solution to the problem of what to do with small children of women

Mansfielder Bound Over After Slashing Friend's Clothes.

A Mansfield man who admitted in municipal court this morning that he broke into his girl friend's apartment while she was away from home and slashed her clothing and destroyed other personal property valued at $135 was bound over to the county grand jury under $500 bond.

Cited for malicious destruction of property was Howard Lister, 22½ South Main street. He pleaded guilty before Judge H. H. Schettler.

Lister was arrested by police Sunday night on the complaint of Miss Reva Painter, 22½ South Main street, who said all her clothing had been slashed with a knife and other articles in the room had been damaged. She said she had been keeping company with Lister but there had been some trouble between them.

GIRAUD CONFERS

Talks In Washington on Strictly Military Matters.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— General Henri Giraud will confer here with the British-American chiefs of staff on the war against the Axis.

Presidential Secretary Stephen Early announced this today in emphasizing that the visit of Giraud, chief of French military forces in North Africa, will be of a military character.

AMERICAN MISSING

LONDON — (INS) — Col. Armand Peterson of Flagstaff, Ariz., was reported missing today after leading his group of Thunderbolt planes in a sweep over enemy territory. Peterson is believed to have bailed out when his plane was hit.

Germans Suffering Heavy Losses As They Press New Offensive.

BULLETIN

MOSCOW —(U.P.)— The Red army reported today that it had stopped cold the first onslaught of a powerful German offensive along a 165-mile front which in 36 hours cost the Nazis 10,000 men killed, 738 tanks and 208 planes.

(By Associated Press)

MOSCOW — Vicious German thrusts by armored divisions and infantry have been flung back with heavy losses all along the 165-mile central front from Orel to Belgorod, the Russians reported today as the long-expected Nazi summer offensive moved into its second day.

Despite terrific destruction to their armored units, amounting in some cases to as high as 50 per cent of total attacking strength, the Nazi army kept boring into the heavily defended positions. In only isolated sectors, however, have they managed to penetrate the defense lines, Red army leaders said.

The Russian midnight communique said in the initial hours of the battle Red army units destroyed 586 tanks and 208 planes.

The midday communique reported an additional 152 tanks were knocked out of the fight. The communique also reported 6,000 Germans had been slain.

Military experts said it was too early yet to speculate whether Hitler aims to try to capture Moscow to the north, the Caucasian oil fields to the south, or both.

The Russian people feel that Americans Rule On Vangunu Island, Expect Heavy Air Blows.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The navy reported today that on the basis of incomplete information United States naval forces apparently had caused the Japanese very heavy damage in the battle of Kula Gulf.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Official reports of a naval battle in the central Solomons indicated today the South Pacific offensive was rapidly gaining one of its most important objectives—that of forcing the Japanese navy to come out and fight.

Even in the absence of word that major forces were engaged, this new "battle of Kula gulf" was regarded here as of great significance, for it showed that the Japanese felt compelled to accept the challenge and risk a part of their South Pacific fleet in an effort to check the American advance.

The situation appeared to be somewhat similar to that during the fighting for Guadalcanal last fall which culminated in the decisive battle of mid-November when American task forces smashed a Japanese sea borne drive to reconquer the island and thereby secured it for American occupancy.

While the fighting for Munda, of which the Kula gulf action is an essential part, is similar in many respects to the campaign for Guadalcanal, it apparently is the reverse of the situation at Attu island in the North Pacific just a few weeks ago.

The Japanese were never will-

BLOW: Churchill Mourns Loss Of Polish Premier, 14 Others

(By Associated Press)

LONDON—Prime Minister Churchill told the house of commons today the death of General Wladyslaw Sikorski, premier of the Polish government-in-exile who was killed Sunday in an air crash at Gibraltar, is "one of the heaviest strokes we have sustained."

At the same time the house advised that Brig. Gen. J. P. Whiteley, a member of parliament, was among the 15 persons killed in the crash of the Liberator aircraft which was bearing Sikorski home from an inspection of Polish forces in the Middle East.

Representatives of the Polish government looked on from the galleries as the prime minister solemnly told the house that "we learned yesterday that the cause of the United Nations has suffered a most grievous loss."

Sikorski, who in addition to being premier had served as commander in chief of the Polish armed forces, "commanded the devoted loyalty of the Polish people, now tortured and struggling in Poland itself," Churchill said.

Sikorski's body lay in state today in the Roman Catholic cathedral in Gibraltar.

Beside him lay the body of General Tadeusz Klimecki, chief of the Polish general staff, who met death in the same accident.

FURIOUS: Yanks Down 30 Axis Planes In Gerbini Air Battle

BULLETIN

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa—(U.P.)—Allied aircraft of all types teamed up Monday to smash nine Axis invasion base targets in Sicily and Sardinia and to shoot down 45 more enemy fighters in one of the biggest aerial onslaughts in the Mediterranean theater.

(By Associated Press)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA—A furious air battle developed over Gerbini yesterday during a Flying Fortress raid on that Sicilian airfield, Allied headquarters announced today. The American gunners shot down 30 of approximately 100 attacking enemy fighters.

The communique described the resistance as "vigorous."

Other Allied air squadrons inflicted damage on three other landing fields in Sicily—at Licata, Marsala and Sciacca, the war bulletin said.

Allied plane losses were placed at 12 during yesterday and the night before, when night bombers blasted targets at Villacidro, in Sardinia, and at Catania, in Sicily.

More than 60 Liberator bombers based in the Middle East joined in the devastating raids, shaking Messina in Sicily with nearly 375,000 pounds of bombs, a communique of the U. S. Ninth air force declared.

Hits blanketing the ferry terminal installations in Messina "caused extensive damage," the communique said, and bombs were laid on railway tracks, a roundhouse, a warehouse, freight yards, oil tanks and barracks by the Liberators striking in three waves. One string of bombs "fell across the Lazaretto Mole."

The Liberators downed three

OPA Orders Endorsement on Face of Coupons Immediately After Receipt.

The OPA today issued new regulations in the gasoline rationing program requiring endorsement of coupons with license numbers on the face instead of on the reverse side as in the past.

Effective July 22, the new ruling also says all A, B, and C coupons must be endorsed as soon as they are received by the applicant to aid in controlling the black market in gasoline and to save time at filling stations.

Another new OPA ruling on gasoline announced today puts an

Boy Plays Game With Death, He's Winning So Far

MILLERSBURG—A 13-year-old Holmes county boy who played hide-and-seek with death for two days apparently was on the way to recovery today after undergoing a belated operation for appendicitis in Pomerene Memorial hospital in Millersburg.

Disappearing from the hospital Friday, shortly before he was to have an operation, Homer Ammons, ward of the Holmes county children's home, was located at the home of his mother in Wooster and hurried back to the hospital. Surgeons found the appendix had burst because of the delay, but the boy's condition was described as "fair" today.

The boy became ill Friday while working at the Charles A. Stitzlein farm near Loudonville. At the Millersburg hospital his illness was diagnosed as appendicitis. While nurses were awaiting the arrival of a surgeon from Coshocton, the Ammons boy put on his clothing and fled.

Sheriff's officers searched for him until Sunday morning when the Wayne county sheriff located him in Wooster. The boy told officers he had hitch-hiked to Loudonville and called his mother who came after him. The youth's father is Floyd Ammons of Millersburg.

July Fourth Week-End Called Safest, Sanest In Two Decades

Mansfield today turned in a report of the safest and sanest July 4th holiday week-end in two decades. Scarcity of gasoline and fireworks, which reduced traffic and fireworks fatalities all over the nation, gave Mansfield and Richland county a clear record for the usually fatal week-end.

Children in two of Mansfield's school districts took part in Fourth of July parades and parties planned by their parents while boat races at Pleasant Hill dam completed the local celebration.

A nation forced to stay put or travel by bus or railroad found today that wartime curtailment of highway travel saved scores of lives. Only 127 of the 298 deaths in the nation were traffic fatalities, a holiday week-end survey showed.

Last year, the first wartime July 4 holiday, there were 320 traffic deaths and in 1941 before gas-tire-auto restrictions there were 500. This year, also not a single fireworks death was reported.

Drownings took the second largest toll with remaining fatalities resulting from home accidents, shootings and suicides.

Returning Mansfield travelers today told tales of trains filled to capacity and standing for hours on jammed buses in the greatest mass travel since the start of the war. Local bus and railroad ticket agents reported record-breaking travel for the week-end with nearly

Charles Mill NYA Camp Waits Word on Closing.

With National Youth administration funds cut off by congress, officials at the NYA war training center for girls at Charles Mill lake were awaiting word from Washington today regarding the fate of the camp.

Thomas C. Jenkins, director of the camp, was in Cleveland today conferring with NYA officials about the camp, it was learned, but others at the training center said they were unable to comment on the likely closing of the project.

For several months, the center has been used exclusively for training girls to hold jobs in war industries. Special classes have been conducted there under the supervision of instructors employed by the federal government.

'Pete' Has Not Come Back, But His Fliers Will Always Hope

By HUGH BAILLIE
(United Press Correspondent)

LONDON—Last month I wrote a dispatch about the scene at a fighter base where we listened to the calm, whimsical voice of a commander over the wireless warning of "bandits at two o'clock" . . . saying he was going down to keep the bandits off some fellows bailing out of a Fortress . . . telling the crowd, "keep your eyes open now." . . . Instructing the pilots to check gas gauges and head for home if their gas was low.

That comander was Col. Arman Peterson.

Pete came back from the fight that day but he hasn't come back from the last fight he and his boys had with the Germans over the occupied countries.

You folks back home might not get the full impact of what it meant when Pete didn't come back unless you knew him and the way he ran his fighter station.

He always went out with his gang on sweeps after German fighters or protecting the Flying Fortresses on their massive raids. He presided at the head of the table in mess hall and talked about this and that with casual ease even with a "mission" scheduled to start within the next hour.

The atmosphere of his fighter base was one of comradeship. The boys at Pete's station grinned easily. They were streamlined and eager. When sorties were delayed by weather they sat around chafing, reading magazines, listening to the deafening blare of the radio.

There was something about Pete

ACTS TONIGHT ON CITY BUDGET

Council To Receive Petitions For Higher Police, Firemen Pay at Same Time.

A proposed budget calling for $381,983 for the operation of Mansfield's city government in 1944 will go before city council for final action tonight.

At the same time council will receive a petition from police and firemen, requesting pay increases of $35 a month. The requested pay boost, which would amount to nearly $27,000, is not provided for in the budget as it stands. The budget figures, however, may undergo revision before council approves them.

The over-all budget request is approximately the same as the appropriation measure passed last year. It provides $81,750 for the fire department, $59,130 for the police department, $42,580 for street repairs, $36,000 for street lighting, $28,000 for parks, $20,000 for relief purposes, and

McGregor Blames Experimentation For Meat Shortage

Rep. J. Harry McGregor of the 17th district which includes Richland county, today blamed experimentation by the Office of Price Administration for the meat shortage. He charged this in a statement in Washington.

Saying that meat production is higher than ever before, McGregor declared there would be plenty "in our stores and on our tables if the OPA did as good a job as the farmers and livestock men."

"Why do we have meat shortages in the midst of plenty? he asked in a statement. "The answer is apparent—failure of the OPA in its meat control program as well as numerous other programs, caused by confusion, red tape and at times contradictory regulations, all of which are the result of too many attempted practices of theorists, rather than the operation of practical, experienced personnel.

"What we need in OPA is men who will issue regulations based on common sense."

Subway Grates Gave Idea For Plane Runways

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—(U.P.)—The man who invented the "Magic Carpet" of the Army Air Forces, which consists of a portable steel airfield that can be carried to the remotest areas by plane and glider, and the man who invented the iron gratings of New York's subways, is one and the same individual.

He is Walter E. Irving, president of the Irving Subway Grating company of New York City, who has opened at Emeryville, Cal., a new plant where "Magic Carpets" are being turned out 24 hours a day for the use of the Army Air Forces in all parts of the world.

These metallic airfields or runways are carried in sections by airplanes or gliders and dropped by parachutes anywhere a new field or runway is needed. They render aviation possible in the remotest parts of the earth, and the most varied terrain from jungles to mountains, on the quickest possible notice.

Irving, who had installed the metallic coverings on all New York subways, states that the idea of something of the kind for airplane runways came to him in 1929 and he took it up at once with the war department, which was rather cold to the project.

But when the war came on, he was quickly able to demonstrate not only their feasibility, but the war itself demonstrated their absolute necessity. General Arnold, army air chief, had reported their success on many of the fronts.

GIVES RELIEF

PORTLAND, Ore.—(INS)—Prisoners at Multnomah county's rock pile are going to do more than make big ones into little ones this season—they're going to have a victory garden.

About five acres of county-owned land adjoining the rock pile has been plowed up and potatoes and other vegetables planted.

Sheriff Martin T. Pratt hopes the garden project will become permanent, with the prisoners furnishing food for some other institutions and "doing something useful besides breaking rock."

SCIO, Ore. — (U.P.) — After 40 years without a jail, the town of Scio, in Oregon's Willamette valley, is going to have a hoosegow. The city council is scurrying to find suitable lodgings for wrongdoers, following the threat of City Marshal C. M. Syrus that he'd resign unless a jail were forthcoming.

HIS 1943 VACATION...

48 HOURS!

Just as long as a week-end pass.

That's all many of the boys get these days.

Not time enough for a few rounds of golf . . . or to fleck a fly on a trout stream . . . or to loll on a beach.

For him, all that went out when the war came in.

Now, his vacation can be measured by the tick of a watch . . . just time enough for one of Mother's dinners . . . a long chat with Dad . . . a good night's sleep in his own bed . . . a glance at the Sunday morning paper . . . and back to camp.

Please think of that young man when you plan YOUR vacation.

If you are going away for two weeks, start your vacation Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday, so there will be seats and berths on week-end trains for him and his buddies. Try to time your travel to accommodate him!

You may not realize it, but right now more than 15 per cent of the total passenger traffic on the Pennsylvania Railroad is Service men traveling on leave. And most of it is over week-ends.

So please do your best to time your travel so that it doesn't interfere with theirs!

IN HOLLYWOOD-- By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—There is nothing quite like the love of one vaudevillian for another—especially when they're not working in the same picture. Alan Carney and Wally Brown, veteran vaudevillians, are co-starring in a new picture called "Adventures of a Rookie." That makes them a team. They're the best of friends, old pals, a mutual admiration society. Out on the field of battle, in front of the camera, there's nothing either wouldn't do to help his buddy along by topping his gag, inching closer to the camera, or wriggling an ear to attract attention to himself. Some say the picture can never be finished because each of the boys has to have the last word.

Coons

I found the two funny men slipping into their G. I. in a canvas dressing room off the set. With surprisingly few questions I managed to get them to talk about themselves.

"We've known each other for years," said Al Carney.

"But never played together—always followed each other on the circuits," said Wally Brown. "I—

"Funny thing," said Carney. "I was at Paramount theater on Broadway—did five weeks—and Wally was at Loew's State across the street. I went over to tell him I was coming to the coast for RKO—to play with Cary Grant in 'Mr. Lucky.' I—"

"It's tough for a talking comedian to get along at the Paramount," said Wally Brown. "You work in front of a band and the jitterbugs will murder you if they don't like you. I did six weeks of it. I—"

Richard Martin, new young actor, came in with a script.

"What lines are you ad libbing today?" he asked.

"Heh, heh, heh," a laughing duet from the funny men. "We're always trying out new lines in front of the camera."

"One of these days," said handsome Richard, "I'm going to do an ad lib myself and throw you off."

"Heh!" Wally Brown leaped to the idea. Why don't you spring one? You spring one, and then I'll say—"

"Heh!" chortled Alan Carney. "Anybody could guess that you would say something."

Wally Brown laughed, and together they launched into a play-by-play description of the plot of "Rookie." After this one, they're to make two more, fast, because Alan Carney is being paged by Uncle Sam. Wally Brown is 38, and a papa besides.

"Heh," said Wally, "here we are talking about our next picture, and we haven't finished this one!"

The funny men were called to the set to do one of those scenes in which both try to get through a door together and get stuck. Their necks get a good work-out—from stretching toward the camera.

Heh, heh, heh!

DIES MONDAY

Mrs. Beecher Kisling Taken By Death at Home.

Mrs. Beecher Kisling, 56, died Monday afternoon at her home, 225 South Foster street, following an illness of several months.

Born in Germany Sept. 5, 1886, Mrs. Kisling came to Mansfield 40 years ago. She was a member of St. John's Evangelical church.

Surviving are her husband, one daughter, Elsa, at home and two brothers, Henry and Jacob Miller, both of Germany.

The body is at the Wappner funeral home where services will be conducted Thursday at 1 p. m. with Rev. Paul H Saleste, pastor of St. John's church, officiating. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

Gypsy Accused Of Buying Family To Escape The Draft

CINCINNATI — (U.P.) — George Frank, 23-year-old gypsy, was charged today with paying $500 for a "ready made" family of a wife and three children in an attempt to escape the draft.

FBI agents said a formal charge of furnishing his local Selective Service board with false information would be placed against Frank.

Frank, former circus concessionaire and shipfitter, paid the woman's brother $500 last summer, FBI men said. They were married gypsy custom, each eating salt bread in thep resence of their parents.

Another gypsy, who had become infatuated with the woman told a Virginia draft board of the transaction, agents said and Frank was arrested when he reported to a Cincinnati draft board.

Frank denied "buying" his bride claiming he married her seven years ago

CAN TAKE TRIPS

Eastern Motorists to Receive Vacation Gas Allotment.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Rep. Fred Hartley (D., N. J.) today disclosed that the Office of Price Administration will ease the ban on pleasure driving on the eastern seaboard to allow gasoline for vacation trips effective July 15

Hartley said Dr Charles F. Phillips, chief of the OPA automotive supply division warned, however, that only one trip to and from vacation spots will be authorized.

HAY FEVER VICTIMS' GASOLINE PROBLEM PASSED TO WASHINGTON

TOLEDO—The Toledo OPA office, unable to decide whether or not to issue extra gas ration coupons to hay fever sufferers so they might travel north to escape the ragweed plague, today sent the problem to Washington.

Mrs. Fordyce G. Bedford, president of the "Ohio hay fever sufferers' association," appealed for extra gas mileage for sufferers so they might journey to Michigan, where ragweed and goldenrod pollen, which apparently aggravate the sneezers' misery, are unknown.

"The suffering is genuine," said Mrs. Bedford. "No hay fever sufferer leaves his home and occupation for pleasure. Going north for hay fever is a serious medical matter."

She contended that sufferers could receive relief by traveling 300 miles north of Toledo, and that an allowance for 600 extra miles should be granted when the sufferer can produce medical testimony of the need for relief by going north.

OPA officials said they expect a ruling from Washington before the hay fever season starts about August.

DIES AT AGE 30

Mrs. Frances Clapper Formerly Taught at Lexington.

MT. GILEAD—Mrs Frances Mildred Clapper, 30, died Monday evening at Mansfield General hospital from complications which developed at childbirth.

Mrs. Clapper was music instructor in the Lexington and Loudonville schools until her marriage to Howard Clapper Aug. 20, 1938. She was born Aug. 5, 1912 in Johnsville and had lived in Mt. Gilead since her marriage.

Surviving are her husband; her six-day-old daughter, Patricia Ann and her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Craven, Lexington.

The body is at the Craven funeral home and will be taken to the Clapper home Wednesday. Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 2 p. m. at the home with Rev. Eugene Ruch, pastor of Mt. Gilead Methodist church. Burial will be in Riverchff cemetery.

PAY DELAYED

Retroactive Portion of Wage Boost to Come Aug. 1.

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—State Finance Director Herbert D. Defenbacher said today that it will be impossible to give state employes the retroactive portion of pay increases granted by the legislature until at least Aug. 1.

"It will be mechanically impossible to pay the retroactive portion of the increase by the middle of July," Defenbacher said. The pay increase measure granted 10 per cent wage increases to workers earnings less than $1,500 a year and an increase of $150 a year to employes earning between $1,800 and $2,000.

BETTY'S HUBBY DUE FOR A 1-A

Board Acts Right After Grable, Harry James Are Wed.

HOLLYWOOD — (INS) — Blond Betty Grable was to return to work today in her new film, "Pin Up Girl," after a one-day honeymoon with Harry James, swing band leader whom she married in a five-minute ceremony early yesterday at Las Vegas, Nev.

Four hours after the 4 a. m. wedding, James and Miss Grable started back for Hollywood, where James received news that his Beaumont, Tex., draft board planned to reclassify him into 1-A.

The board announced that James, who is 27, automatically lost his 3-A "family man" classification when he was divorced recently in Juarez, Mexico, by his first wife, since he no longer maintains a home for her and their child.

Ohioan Pulled Under Ship's Wheel, Only Slightly Hurt.

CINCINNATI—(AP)—John Gondkovic, of Mingo Junction, O., Xavier university medical student, was carried beneath a giant paddle wheel of the Ohio river excursion steamer Island Queen yesterday, but escaped with only minor rib and back injuries.

Gondkovic and four other persons were passengers on a 26-foot pleasure boat when suction from the steamer drew the smaller craft into collision.

COUNCIL ADMITS BOY, 16, OWNS TOWN'S BASTILE

Irked City Fathers Give Him Stern Warning To Raise Sidewalk, Cut Weeds.

(By United Press)

HARVARD, Neb. — The town council admitted loss of the town jail today—at the price of $1.50 in a tax foreclosure sale.

The proud new owner is Robert Pinckney, 16, who discovered the jail was on one of 10 tax delinquent lots he bought for $15 as sites for victory gardens.

A letter from the council notified Robert the town was yielding to his ultimatum—quit using the jail or face an eviction suit. But the letetr warned Robert, pointedly, that the city fathers will have their eyes on him.

First, the council ordered, Robert must raise the sidewalk near the jail to street level. Secondly, he must cut the grass and weeds on his property within a week. If he fails to comply, the council added, the "necessary action will be taken."

The controversy between Robert and the council started May 11 when the jail, by error, was included among property sold for failure to pay taxes. Soon after, the boy announced he owned the jail and would the town be kind enough to move a couple of drunks out of the building, please.

The council refused. Robert grew stern. He pointed out that because the town had been leasing the jail his purchase had the full backing of law. The council members got sore, too. They told Robert to keep away from the two-room jail and dismissed his father as the town physician.

Robert got a lawyer. Last week he laid down the ultimatum which brought the council into line.

The responsibilities of owning a jail—even in a town of only 700 persons—weigh heavily upon him, Robert said, and he has not decided how to use it. He has had one offer to rent it. A pair of war plant workers want to live there.

DEATH CLAIMS C. W. BAER, 71

Kallmerten & Baer Company Vice President Had Been Ill Several Months.

Charles W. Baer, 71, vice president of Kallmerten and Baer company since it was incorporated in 1930, died Monday afternoon at his home, 150 Home avenue, following an illness of several months.

BURPING GHOST RATTLES PANS

Topples Chairs, Too, But Deputy Finds Out It's Only Sewer Gas.

(By United Press)

DALLAS, Tex. — The T. A. Hardins were back in their home today, satisfied that the ghostly noises they heard for six days were nothing more than sewer gas.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Bill Decker, whose department has been trying to solve the mystery of toppling chairs and tables, falling pans and slowly opening doors, felt the house quiver and heard a noisy burp yesterday after a long wait.

"The haunt has gas on his stomach," observed one of Decker's two deputies. "Too much holiday cheer."

That gave Decker his clue.

"Gas," he yelled. "It's gas. Sewer gas. Get a plumber."

The plumber found that an accumulation of gas under the house had caused the noises and upset the furniture, events which led Mrs. Hardin and her two children to take refuge in her father's home. In fact, the plumber said, the gas was so powerful that if someone had lit a match, the furniture really would have floated through the air, along with the house.

After Decker and his men left, Hardin telephoned a group of spiritualists who had volunteered to contact the ghost that they weren't needed.

TRAIN VICTIM

Man, 80, Killed When Struck at New London.

NEW LONDON — The body of John George Hespeler, 80, who was killed by a train Monday afternoon, was taken to Detroit, Mich. this morning for funeral services Wednesday.

Hespeler, who has been living here with a son, Fred, was walking to the village when he was struck by a New York Central freight train.

Fred Knapp, New Londoner employed at the Jennings block plant adjoining the track, and A. S. Young of Hereford, Ashland county, both saw the accident.

In addition to the son Fred here, the victim is survived by two other sons, William A., Edward, two daughters, Mrs. Harry Link, and Mrs. O. E Waterman, all of Detroit, Mich.

Mansfield has no curfew for young people under 18, but police imposed one yesterday for a 13-year-old girl and her 16-year-old boy friend who were out "after hours." Investigating at the request of the girl's father, officers found the couple about 1 a. m. yesterday at a home on Greenwood avenue. Police ordered the couple to be off the streets and at their homes by 11 p. m. in the future.

YOUTH HELD IN HAMMER DEATH

Admits Killing Boy, 6, Who Chided Him About Work on Farm Equipment.

(By Associated Press)

CELINA — Louis Vernon Hand, a 17-year-old farm hand, was held in jail here today after, police said, he admitted slaying six-year-old Richard Stober for "razzing" him about his work.

The suspect was arrested yesterday at Greenville after the slain child's body was found stuffed behind a bale of straw in a barn near the farm home of its father, Rufus Stober.

Police Chief Ora McClellan of Greenville said Hand, an employe of the Stober farm, confessed killing the child Sunday because he "made me mad." The police chief said Hand told him the Stober boy's father had reprimanded him for not taking proper care of a piece of farm equipment and the boy chided him about it.

"Richard razzed me about not greasing the cultipacker and this made me mad," McClellan quoted the youth. "I . . . grabbed a clawhammer and hit him on the head three or four times. I also hit him on the neck and over the heart."

He said Hand told him he was the son of an Ansonia railroad crossing watchman, that he was on probation from federal district court at Toledo for auto theft and that he previously had been committed to the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster for car stealing.

Youth Rallies After Operation, Then Succumbs.

NEW YORK — (INS) — Erwin Goldfarb, 16-year-old youth rushed to New York from Miami, Florida by army bomber to submit to a delicate spinal operation, died today in Jewish hospital, Brooklyn.

The boy arrived in New York a week ago Friday suffering from an accidental sunshot wound in his back. Dr. Leo Davidos, chief surgeon at Jewish hospital performed the operation and Erwin responded favorably.

He suffered a relapse over the week-end however and died despite emergency treatment.

78TH CONGRESS SCRAPS 5 NEW DEAL POLICIES

Shows More Mettle In Past 6 Months Than All 5 Preceding FDR Legislatures.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — The 78th congress, six months old today, has dismantled more of President Roosevelt's New Deal in a half year than all five of its predecessor congresses combined.

Since convening last Jan. 6, the present congress has written the following anti-administration record:

1. Killed the Guffey coal act by refusing to extend it beyond next Aug. 23, the date it expires.

2. Scrapped the National Youth administration by eliminating its funds and directing it to liquidate.

3. Junked the National Resources Planning board by a like process.

4. Repealed President Roosevelt's executive order under which all individual salaries were limited to a maximum of $25,000 a year net after taxes.

5. Enacted the Smith-Connally anti-strike law over Mr. Roosevelt's veto.

On the five preceding New Deal congresses, only one went so far as to abolish a New Deal agency. That was the 77th congress which last year ordered the liquidation of the Civilian Conservation Corps.

The records of revolt written by the predecessors of the 78th congress were almost wholly confined to refusing controversial requests by Mr. Roosevelt, such as enlargement of the supreme court in 1937.

Unless the future months bring a reversal in form, the 78th congress appears destined to go down in history as the one which finally broke Mr. Roosevelt's magic grip on the legislative branch. In only one instance this year has the president scored a clean-cut victory on legislative matters.—his veto of the Commodity Credit corporation bill with its anti-subsidy provisions, which was sustained by the house.

The president's loss of control over congress stems mainly from two facts:

The 1942 elections which saw the GOP minority in the house increased to 209 members, only nine short of a majority, and in the senate to 38 members, only 11 less than a majority, and

Mr. Roosevelt's concentration during the last six months on his role as commander-in-chief of the armed forces, almost to exclusion of domestic matters.

FORMER MANSFIELDER FINDS UNIQUE WORK

Julia Fishback, Now of Akron, Spends Summer on Bee Farm In Northern Michigan; Resumes Studies In Fall.

WHAT strange turns events take these days. Word reaches here that Julia Fishback, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fishback, former Mansfielders, now of Akron, is working on a bee farm in northern Michigan this summer. The farm belongs to the family of a Swarthmore college chemistry professtor.

Julia is well known here and her many friends will be interested to know she and a classmate are anxious to learn something about bee farming. This is the first time girls have ever been used for this particular kind of work.

They travel over 20 acres each day on a regular schedule to destroy the abodes of uninvited queen bees that frequently visit hives and drive their previous inhabitants away. Nearest town is a village of 1,700.

Julia will be a Swarthmore junior next fall. After two months on the farm she will return to Akron to spend the remainder of the summer until school reopens. Truly, wartime establishes different standards. More and more young women are setting the pace and taking over the work of men to help in a national emergency.

Mr. and Mrs. D. K. McKitrick of Greenwich are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Janet McKitrick to Robert L. Shauck, machinists mate second class.

The ceremony was performed on June 29 at the parsonage of the First Lutheran church by Rev. Grover E. Swoyer. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Shauck, brother and sister-in-law of the groom.

The bride, a graduate of Greenwich high school, is employed at the Curtis-Wright Aircraft corporation in Columbus. Mr. Shauck is the son of Mrs. Nettie Shauck of Mansfield.

HOROSCOPE

For Wednesday, July 7.

While things on all planes of endeavor may continue at high tempo, urged on by energies, forces and faculties greatly stimulated and pushing on toward the attainment of progressive goals, yet there may be sudden disruptions, strange reversals or peculiar quirks, calling for determination, shrewd management and quick action to avert disintegration. Erratic impulses, nervous strain or overtaxed energies might prove detrimental. Maintain poise and practical constructive methods and sound plans for definite success and satisfaction.

Those whose birthday it is may be keyed up to high tempo for grasping most promising circumstances for putting the future with its activities, progress and practical achievements on an enduring and solid basis. There may be a disruptive or disintegrating forces to cope with, arising suddenly and having strange or peculiar angles to manipulate with skill and ingenuity. Keep calm, balanced and practical and all should succeed.

Family Picnic Held Monday

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Sneeringer, Ashland road, were hosts Monday evening to members of the Thursday Art club and their husbands. A picnic supper was served at a long table on the lawn. Places were laid for 20. Bowls of delphinium and carnations decorated the table.

During the evening bridge was the diversion. The next meeting, in August, will be a picnic at the home of Mrs. Glenn Arnold, with Mrs. Howard Almy and Mrs. Sam Hoover as associates.

SOCIETY & CLUBS

Beverly Boals Honored With Birthday Party

Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Boals, 501 Wood street, entertained Sunday July 4th, honoring their daughter, Beverly Earlene, on her sixth birthday anniversary. The afternoon was spent in games and contests.

At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served at large table centered with a birthday cake. Appointments were in red, white and blue in keeping with the holiday theme. The honoree received many lovely gifts from her friends.

Guests in attendance were La Dona Brandt, Patty Schroeder, Nancy Tucker, Susie Holdridge, Bobby Arnold, Betty Eilenfeld, Corale Book, David Tingley, Ray Weiland, all of Mansfield and Charles Cray of Lakewood.

Pitfalls of Love

(A sequel to Marriage Meddlers)
By ADELE GARRISON

Every muscle of my body was tense as I strained my ears to hear the colloquy at the door. The voices of my father and Collins, the night elevator man who was loyal to him and not to Milner, the hotel manager, were so muted, however, that I could hardly hear a murmur, let alone distinguish words.

But when my father returned to us, he had news.

"Ruth Hayes is in the hotel," he said. "At least Collins says that a woman answering the description of her I gave him, has just gone into Milner's apartment. There were two men with her."

"Aha! a bodyguard!" Dickey said. "Wonder if she'll bring 'em here with her, or if Milner will try to deploy them on the balcony?"

"He—and they— will have a surprise if he does," my father said. "My men out there are exceedingly able citizens. But I think we had better take our places. Margaret, I am going to lay a stern command upon you. No matter what happens, you are not to come from that closet, or utter a sound which will betray your presence there. Richard, I will go into the bedroom now, leaving the door slightly ajar, but putting out the lights. I will station myself near a closet, so that I can slip into it, if by any chance Ruth Hayes should make an unexpected dash into that room."

"Do just as you see fit, sir," Dicky said, "but," he finished grimly, "she won't make any unexpected dashes. I'll give you my word on that."

I was thankful that my father had not asked me to give him my word that I would obey the command he had just laid upon me. My satisfaction was short-lived however, for when my father had left the room, my husband eyed me speculatively as he put out his hand to help me to my feet. He said nothing, however, until, with his hand beneath my elbow, he had piloted me to the closet I had selected, and seated me in the chair he had taken in there for my use.

"Dad forgot to make you promise silence," he whispered then, his voice muffled by the garments hanging in the closet. "And you'd consider one to me as made under duress, so I'm not having any. But by the Lord Harry, if you come out of that closet, even if Ruth Hayes is chopping my head off—you'll wish you hadn't!"

"I wouldn't dream of interfering," I answered demurely; "why should I?"

Dicky tweaked my nose as he switched off the light and backed out of the door, leaving it ajar as I had asked, but with the slight opening concealed by the heavy curtain just inside.

"Pleasant dreams!" he gibed lightly, as he went back to his chair, but I knew that he was as tense as I was, as he sat waiting for the next move in the drama that was unfolding.

It was at least ten minutes, however, before the expected knock, an imperative one, sounded on the door. Through the crack in the closet door, I saw my husband rise, thrust his right hand in his coat pocket where I knew a small loaded silencer pistol was concealed. Then he walked steadily to the outer door and opened it the length of the night chain.

"Good evening," he said,—"or rather, good morning! May I ask your names?"

"Our names don't matter, mister," a heavy masculine voice replied. "We're here simply because a lady wants to come in to talk to you."

"A lady?" Dicky repeated, and I noted the artistic high-pitched interest in his voice. "How delightful! Where is she?".

"Right here." It was unmistakably, now, the voice of Ruth Hayes, as she evidently came close to the door. "I have something most important to tell you, and ask of you,—a matter of life and death."

"Really?" he countered with apparent interest. "How intriguing! Life or death—to me or to you?"

"I'll tell you when I'm inside," was her answer. "Will you let us in?"

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO HOME CANNERS

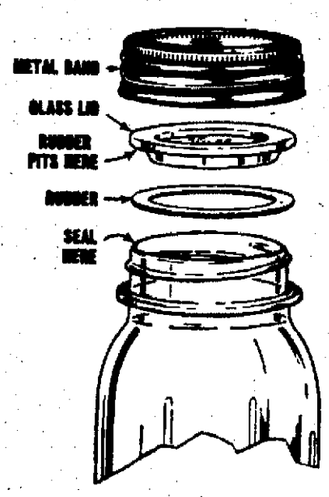
The Glass Top Seal Fruit Jar Cap for Home Canning was developed as a Wartime product to conserve metal. It consists of a Metal Band, Glass Lid and Rubber Ring.

Because of the difference in the nature of these three materials this Cap must be used differently from any other fruit jar cap. If used properly it will give excellent results. If not used properly, results will be bad, including failure to seal and breakage of jars. Following are simple instructions for use of the Glass Top Seal Cap and must be followed carefully.



1. Do NOT use in Oven Canning.
2. If processing, (cooking in jar), leave 1 inch space in top of jar. If using open kettle, leave ½ inch space in top of jar.
3. Fit rubber around projection on bottom side of lid.
4. Place lid so rubber lies between lid and top edge of jar.
5. Turn bands tight, then loosen slightly (about ¼ turn). Bands must fit loosely during processing (cooking). This is Important and must be done to insure best results. If using Open Kettle, screw bands tight as soon as jar is filled.
6. After processing, screw bands tight to complete seal. Remove bands 12 hours after canning.

DO NOT TURN FILLED JARS UPSIDE DOWN

$700,000,000 Anticipated for Year's Subsidy Program

FDR HELPERS SEE PASSAGE BY CONGRESS

Expect Both Houses To O. K. Limited Program For Remainder of '43.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Sen. Walter F. George (D.) Ga., charged during senate debate of the Commodity Credit corporation bill today that the Office of Price administration has consistently sought to thwart the will of congress.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — The senate today takes up under limited debate a proposal to place a high enough limitation on food subsidies to meet any possible threat to the administration's price and wage stabilization program for the rest of this year.

Administration leaders confidently anticipated its approval by both the senate and house. They believed its restrictions liberal enough to avoid a presidential veto such as defeated last week's attempt to outlaw rollback subsidies.

The compromise would place a limit of $700,000,000 on the amount the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Commodity Credit Corporation could use for incentive subsidies or price controls.

The RFC would have $350,000,000 to finance until Jan. 1 the present program of rolling back butter, meat and coffee prices. The butter-meat-coffee program is estimated to cost only $450,000,000 for a full year.

The senate banking committee agreed on the higher figure for six months to provide elasticity for additional control programs now under consideration and explained to the committee in executive session last Saturday. It was said the additional programs would not involve rollbacks but would require federal money to take up increased production and processing costs rather than have them reflected in ultimate higher prices.

At the same time, the CCC would have $175,000,000 to finance subsidies intended to obtain maximum production this year of canning crops and vegetable oils and fats. CCC also would have $175,000,000 to pledge farmers well in advance in planning the acreage for similar programs in 1944.

The limitation is part of a broad congressional program to prevent the administration from exercising its subsidy powers under the 1942 emergency price control act to begin a rollback or other subsidy program which might run into billions of dollars.

Senate acceptance of the limitation proposal virtually was assured. In answer to farm protests that the meat and buter price cuts have rolled back on the farmers, contrary to the intent of the OPA, the limitation proposal carried this provision:

"No subsidy program shall be undertaken or continued with respect to any agricultural commodity either by RFC or CCC, if in its opinion such program will result in any reduction in the price paid to the producers of such commodity, and the RFC and CCC shall each issue suitable regulations to prevent any such reduction in the price paid to the producers of such commodity as a result of any subsidy program.

Attend Funeral For Missionary Once Prisoner

WILLARD—Dr. J. C. Steiner and family are at Pandora Tuesday, attending funeral services for his brother, Rev. John Frank Steiner, 59, a missionary of the Presbyterian church in China for 29 years, who died at his home in Wooster Sunday.

NAZIS ADMIT DESERTIONS

Soldiers Flee Across Norway Border To Sweden, Hitler's Commander Complains.

(By United Press)

STOCKHOLM — The Germans admitted today that Nazi officers and soldiers were deserting in rapidly increasing numbers.

The Axis-controlled Scandinavian Telegraph Bureau said in an Oslo dispatch that Gen. Nikolaus von Falkenherst, commander of the German Army of Occupation in Norway, had posted proclamations decrying the desertions in all Norwegian garrisons.

The proclamation, the STB said, acknowledged that the men were slipping across the border to safety in neutral Sweden and that the numbers recently had shown a "shameful increase." The proclamation specifically mentioned not only private soldiers but officers as well.

"The Swedish government has turned back from a hitherto valid agreement with the German government regarding the extradition of deserters," STB quoted the proclamation.

"The right of asylum is now being granted deserters from the German armed forces even if they cross the border in uniform. I trust this attitude of the Swedish government does not constitute enticement for honor-loving German soldiers to become guilty of a shameful crime."

Swedish authorities withheld comment pending receipt of official notification of the proclamation.

PROGRAM SET

Anti-Dust Project To Start In City Wednesday.

Application of 10,000 gallons of asphalt-base anti-dust material to Mansfield streets will be started Wednesday if the weather is favorable, C. H. Hebel, city streets commissioner, said today.

Earlier use of the material on Cline and Massa avenues and Wood street proved so satisfactory that more of the street oil substitute will be applied to streets in the Woodland area and the southern part of the city, Hebel said.

A larger quantity may be used later in other parts of Mansfield, he said.

Streets which will receive the treatment this week include Woodland, Overlook, Andover, and Woodhill roads, Dickson parkway, Stewart lane, Cleveland avenue, Superior street, Chilton avenue, and East Longview avenue.

Because the material is so heavy, traffic must stay off the freshly-treated streets for 48 hours or more to permit the material to soak in.

D. OF A. INSTALLATION TOPS SOCIETY EVENTS AT SHELBY

SHELBY — Public installation will be held for the Daughters of America officers at 8:30 p. m. today in the Junior Order lodge hall.

The regular session will start at 7 p. m. Visitors are expected from Ashland, Marion and other parts of this district.

The tenth annual reunion of the Gutshall family was held Sunday at Seltzer park. A picnic dinner at noon was followed by a social time.

The Old Pals' club was entertained recently by Mrs. Joe Burrer on Central avenue. A picnic was planned for Thursday night at Seltzer park.

The annual bread baking contest for the Hazel Grove grange will be held tonight at the hall, northwest of the city. Home made ice cream and cake will be furnished as refreshments. Each family is to bring table service.

Shelby Garden club will hold a picnic supper tonight at the home of Mrs. Robert Shreffler on West Main street.

Miss Thelma Dodge and her guest, Miss Lois Wilson of Los Angeles, Calif., both members of the WAVES, have been visiting at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dodge, in this city.

Pvt. John Adams is enjoying an eight-day furlough here visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Francis Leemaster was hostess to the Vendredi club recently. Cards were played. The club will meet in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Emerson Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason Boor have received word that their son, Salo, has been promoted to the rank of second class in the U. S. navy.

Mrs. Bessie Clawson of Tiro has accepted a position at the Shelby Hardware store and will move to this city in the near future.

New California Law Restricts Jap Fisherman

SACRAMENTO, Cal. — (U.P.) — The state of California is resolved not to make the same mistake twice about Japanese aliens and citizens.

Two new laws approved at a recent legislative session are to go into effect in August to restrict activities of Japanese firemen along the coast and to give closer control over Japanese ownership of land.

The fishing measure resulted from charges that Japanese, before they were sent to relocation centers, used high-powered fishing boats to spy on fleet maneuvers and took soundings around defense positions.

The new law will prohibit Japanese aliens from obtaining commercial fishing licenses and extend the same ban to corporations with Japanese officers or majority stockholders.

Although California for years has had an alien land act restricting land ownership by non-citizen Japanese, state legislators were told Japanese had contrived to gain control of property surrounding many military objectives through giving nominal title to the land in the names of American-born relatives.

STUDY JAPANESE

BOULDER, Colo. — (INS) — Women studying for commissions in the WAVES Japanese language school at Colorado University—are really acquiring a dislike for the land of the Rising Sun.

Their course includes "a minimum of 13 hours' study daily" using "a mere five textbooks and 14 dictionaries" to master the language.

This cramming is necessary because the candidates must complete a three-year course in one year.

Navy Honors Radar Expert

RECEIVING A CERTIFICATE in honor of his twenty years of service in the Naval Research Laboratory is A. Hoyt Taylor (right), outstanding Radar scientist. END OF AMERICAN RUBBER DROUGHT IN SIGHT

This doesn't mean that you'll be able to buy that new set of tires for the old jalopy tomorrow, but the synthetic rubber program has reached the point where the United States now is assured of enough base rubber to fill its own and Allied military needs and at least essential civilian requirements. There are now 40 plants in operation in this country which, by the beginning of 1944, will be producing at the rate of 850,000 long tons annually. That this is no mean figure is indicated by a comparison with the peak year for crude rubber imports, 1940, when we brought in 814,608 long tons valued at $317,711,000. Before the Japanese drive into the Malay States and the Dutch East Indies the United States was entirely dependent on these sources for this vital product. The Jap aggression has had one good effect—it has forced us to become self-sufficient in rubber, a fact which will have an important bearing on our industrial economy after the war. (International)

INTEREST LAGS WITH FILING DEADLINE NEAR

No Contests Expected at Shelby Primary; Voters Eye General Election.

SHELBY — Political interest in Shelby continues to lag although the deadline for filing petitions for the primaries is next Saturday.

No contests are expected at the primary election.

The biggest interest in the general election will be the race between W. R. Morris, present mayor, and Theodore Lutz, former city law director, who are running for the city's law director post. Both men are veteran politicans. Mayor Morris has been mayor of the city for two terms of two years each. Lutz has been active in local and county politics.

Under the city charter form of government, candidates seek office on a non-partisan ballot.

The term of John R. Kingsboro expires this fall. It is expected that he will seek re-election unopposed. Kingsboro is president of the Shelby District board of education and veteran member of the board.

Campaign Leaders Optimistic About Rollback Program

Back home today from conferences in Washington on the food price rollback, Philip Schwaner and Robert Arnold of the public affairs committee of the combined CIO-A. F. of L. council expressed confidence that labor's program to lower food prices by paying subsidies to producers will ultimately win approval.

The Mansfield labor representatives and others from the state met with Congressman J. Harry McGregor of the 17th district and George Bender, Cleveland, congressman-at-large.

Schwaner said Congressman McGregor promised that he will oppose any additional taxes on wages or any sales or spending taxes. The congressman pledged opposition to the Austin-Wadsworth bill and agreed to investigate means of supporting consumer protection movements, adding that he believes prices should be frozen on a parity with wages, Schwaner said.

Labor leaders reported progress in the city drive to obtain signatures on petitions to roll back food prices. The petitions will be taken to Washington by union representatives and presented to James M. Byrnes, economic stabilization director, it was said.

ROTARY CLUB SHOWN MOVIES

The question, "Why are we fighting," that is sometimes asked, is fully answered in the motion picture, "The Nazi Speaks," shown at today's meeting of the Rotary club by H. H. Frank, inspector of the area air corps.

The picture presents an historic record of Germany's dream of world domination from Bismarck's ambitious plans in 1863, through the era of Kaiser Wilhelm and the first World war, and into the beginnings of the Hitler regime.

Fred Frankeberger was program chairman of the meeting, which was held at the Mansfield-Leland hotel, with Howard Gongwer, newly inducted president, presiding.

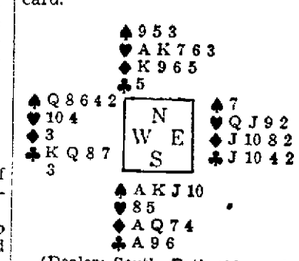
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

GET OUT OF THE WAY

Contract upon contract gets made because one defender fails to unblock the suit of his partner. Many a fair player hates to throw away a pretty good looking intermediate card, under a higher one which is already on the table, and so winds up play of the suit holding the highest outstanding card of it. With that he has to win the last trick in the suit, whereas if he had tossed his intermediate away, his partner would have been able to take that trick and then score an additional small card.



(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

On a hand just shortly previous, a defender had failed to throw his blocking card under his partner's winner, so it was a real pleasure to see the sound thing done on this deal by Clarence Budington Kelland, noted author and Republican leader. The club 7 was led by West and Mr. Kelland used his 10 to force the A. South decided that a hold-up would do no good since he reckoned the suit was divided on a 5-4 basis.

With the eight positive tricks in sight, the declarer first sought the ninth in diamonds, taking the A and leading toward the K. West's spade discard showed that this would not work, so the only remaining chance was in winning a spade finesse. West took this with his Q and scored the club K, followed by the Q. On those tricks Mr. Kelland put first his 4 and then his J, though he also had the 2 left.

Consequently the 8 was high enough to win the fourth club trick, and the 8 set the contract. If Mr. Kelland had played the 2 on the third club and kept the J, he would have had to win the fourth club trick, and consequently the declarer would have made his contract.

(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

If West bids hearts twice, South diamonds twice, North clubs twice, and then the heart K is led against South's 3-No Trumps, what should East discard in trying to beat the contract?

PROVES COSTLY

Failure To Leave City Adds To Jail Sentence.

His failure to leave Mansfield under a court order issued June 3 today had cost Sherman Craft, 563 Bowman street, 20 days in the county jail and a $25 fine.

Craft was brought back into municipal court this morning on a charge of malicious destruction of property filed by Ivan Milligan, 552 McPherson street, following an accident Saturday night on Bowman street.

Milligan contended that Craft intentionaly ran his car into Milligan's automobile four times, damaging the rear bumper and frame. Craft was found guilty by Judge H. H. Schettler who remembered he had sentenced Craft to 10 days in the county jail on June 3 for assault and battery. The sentence was suspended then and Craft was ordered to leave the city.

Judge Schettler added another 10 days to the sentence today and imposed a $25 fine which will be suspended if Craft pays for the damage to Milligan's car.

Sport Podge

by REX HESS

It will happen every time. You sit on a good yarn for months, and the minute your back's turned — boom, goes the powder keg.

I'm referring right now to Al Fendrick's resignation as coach of Madison High's football and basketball teams after 14 years of successful athletic tutoring out on Ram Hill.

Yes, I knew about the thing as long as two months ago, but had I mentioned it then, or any time in the interim, everyone involved might have done a little mind changing, and I'd have been left up a tree.

If I had used the story long ago, and then everything had been patched up, I can hear the populace cheering:

"Nyah, nyah, nyah, think you know so much. Phooey!"

And I draw down enough nyah, nyah, nyah's now without sticking my defenseless neck out on stories that may never happen.

But then, if I had used the story, Al's friends in the Madison district might have demanded that the school board meet one of his offers to stick.

And then again maybe not. I've no doubt Al has plenty of friends out Madison way and perhaps a few enemies. As the old saying has it: "I wouldn't give a hoot for a guy who never made an enemy, because he has never made important enough decisions to make enemies."

Fendrick's resignation and the story of his long and successful coaching career were well covered on this page last week while I was away.

Now games won and lost, and championships chalked up are usually the measure of a coach's success, and I'm willing to ride along on that basis of judgment.

But long after the record of Fendrick's won and lost column is forgotten, along with the number of years of his service at Madison, and even when the names of some of his brightest stars become dim with age, I'll always remember Al Fendrick as the guy who forced himself into an unpopular decision and had the guts to stick with it.

Al doesn't like to recall that unhappy occasion—it ruined a football and basketball season for him—but I believe it needs to be considered in measuring the man and his work at Madison.

Fendrick had one of his good teams that year, not his best and not his worst, but one that looked like it might have gone places.

So before the opening game, a road contest, Al gave his boys a lecture on some of the things that made Massillon's reputation, including the fact that Massillon players did not commit petty larceny in restaurants on their trips to other cities.

The power of suggestion is strong. Had he not given his little talk, perhaps nothing would have happened. But the fact remains that such things as silverware, salt and pepper shakers, and stuff were missing from the place where they ate on that trip.

Fendrick determined to stop the mischievous practice, for it was nothing more than that. He instructed all the players who had lifted things on the trip to turn in their uniform.

"I never dreamed that more than one or two players would be guilty," Al explained at the time. "Imagine how I felt when nearly the entire first team checked in their suits."

But Fendrick stuck by his decision, and the self confessed athletes played no more that school year. It meant a dismal football and basketball season, a year in which Al laughingly "built character."

But the fact that he stuck by his decision may have been one of the reasons why Area Scout Executive Floyd Dent believes Al is just the man to carry out Mansfield's playground program, and perhaps go into Boy Scout work.

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Buddy Walker, local negro heavyweight, knocked out Leroy Lawson, 198-pound Detroiter, in the eighth of a scheduled 10-round bout here last night. The 193-pound Walker downed Lawson for a nine count just before he delivered the knockout blow.

Prep for All-Star Classic

Galan's Triple Pulls Dodgers Out of Slump.

By JUDSON BAILEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

NOW that baseball's booming Fourth of July bombardment is over the major leagues can turn their attention toward next Tuesday's annual all-star game.

The most spectacular fireworks yesterday was set off by Augie Galan on the Brooklyn Dodgers. He pulled the Dodgers out of a five-game losing streak by hitting a triple with the bases loaded in the first game and a grand slam homer in the second for a double victory over the Chicago Cubs 6-3 and 8-2.

Bill Nicholson of the Cubs, Stan Musial of St. Louis, Met Ott of New York and Vince DiMaggio of Pittsburgh were other National league all-star nominees who punched round-trippers.

Musial's blow in the seventh decided the second game of a doubleheader at Philadelphia in the Cardinal's favor 4-3 after the world champions had been shellacked 15-2 in the opening contest.

The split shaved St. Louis' national league lead to three games.

In the day's other National league show Pittsburgh beat the New York Giants 8-4 and then was shutout 9-0, when Ott hit his 12th homer of the season.

Cincinnati at Boston was postponed because of the weather.

In the American league the New York Yankees took two games at St. Louis 3-2 and 8-5, but the first affair was not won until Joe Gordon smacked his ninth homer in the 11th inning.

The Browns thought they had bagged the game with two runs in the ninth and were in the clubhouse eating ice cream when they learned they hadn't. They thought they had tallied the winning run on John Lindell's throw into the St. Louis dugout, but after first allowing the run, the umpires yielded to the protests of Joe McCarthy that Milt Byrnes was entitled only to go to third, and called the Browns back onto the field.

Besides Gordon, Chet Laabs and Vernon Stephens of St. Louis, Rudy York of Detroit and Bob Johnson of Washington, all American league all-stars hit homers.

York's blow with two on figured in Detroit's 10-3 triumph over the second place Senators. Johnson's, with one on provided the margin of Washington's 6-4 victory.

The Chicago White Sox split two with the Boston Red Sox, beating Tex Hughson 4 2 in the opener then losing the second 6-1.

A pair of four-hit pitching performances by Don Black and Luman Harris gave the Philadelphia Athletics twin triumphs over the Cleveland Indians 2-1 and 7-0.

Brewers Hang On To Lead In AA

(By Associated Press)

Now that the Milwaukee Brewers have captured the American Association lead from Indianapolis, they are determined to hold on.

The Brewers doused Kansas City twice, winning the opener 4-2 and the second 6-1. Indianapolis found it tough to split with Louisville, taking the first game 3-2 but dropping the second 7-3.

Columbus and Toledo also divided, the Bread taking the starter 3 to 1 but relinquishing the second 7 to 0—both games being decided in the first inning. Toledo punched over two tallies in the opening inning of the first game and held out behind Freddy Sanford's 6-hit mound job. The Birds scored three times in the initial frame of the afterpiece and coasted along on Preacher Roe's fine two-hit performance.

St. Paul chalked up a double kill, whipping Minneapolis 15 to 3 and 6 to 2.

MARKET WISE TAKES $50,000 HANDICAP

BOSTON—(INS)—Market Wise was firmly established today among the turf greats of 1943 after winning the $50,000 added Massachusetts handicap yesterday from a field of six at Suffolk Downs' sloppy track.

Running gamely from the beginning and driving through the stretch and with a great closing kick, Market Wise shook off a late bid by Salto to pay $4.40, $3.60 and $2.60. Third was Don Bingo, Bing Crosby's South American importation, who paid $2.60 for show.

High Scores Mark League

North Lake and Cates Run Into Twenties.

High scores were the rule in the Parks association softball league yesterday as North Lake outblasted Johns Park 21-13 and Cates swamped John Todd 20-3.

Nearest approach to a ball game was the 9-4 victory chalked up by Prospect over Maple Lake.

North tallied 12 runs in the first two innings and needed them before the carnage was over. They picked up five in the first, seven in the second, five in the fifth and three in the sixth, while Johns was getting four in the first, three in the fourth, and five in the seventh.

Musille, Dent and Adams hit for the circuit for North Lake.

Cates also got their runs in big innings, chalking up four in the first, six in the second and seven in the fourth, while John Todd tallied all three of its markers in the sixth.

Stoner and Bader of Cates got triples.

A five-run blast in the fourth, and three more in the seventh clinched the Prospect victory as Hal Ebbert limited Maple to four hits.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Last December, the Rev. Garis Long of Ashland, Ky., went for a quail hunt near Spartanburg, S. C. . . . While he was hunting, his favorite bird dog, Tillie, was lost and when all efforts to locate her failed, the Rev. Mr. Long had to go home dogless. . . . Last Saturday the minister took his family for a picnic near Ashland and who should turn up but Tillie, a bit lean and leg-weary after six months of wandering through the Carolinas, Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky to get home. . . . "If the Rev. Mr. Long hadn't been a minister of the gospel," suggests John McGill, jr., of the Ashland "Independent," "he could have told these long-winded fishermen where to go."

SCRAP COLLECTION

As proof that Mickey Owen doesn't have "rabbit ears," when the Cards staged a huddle on strategy after Joe Medwick reached third in Sunday's game, Mickey became fidgety and wandered from the batter's box down to join the crowd. And apparently he didn't hear much, for the Cards diagnosed the squeeze play attempt and caught Medwick between third and home.

New Pitch Helps Hubbell Retain Youth at Forty

By LESTER RICE

NEW YORK — (INS) — Carl Hubbell is 40 years old. In his service of baseball that is the age of senility. Only the hardy and th slim, graceful exponents of energy like the saunt'ring Missourian ever go beyond it.

It is an age which denotes the end of the trailend of the trail, which beckons a man to a retired hearth or to some less animated occupation like the raising of chickens or the cultivation of cantaloupes.

But for exceptions like Hubbell who have faith in the thought that a man is no older than he feels, life at 40 goes right along without ever a backward glance at the long, winding road behind.

Hubbell in spirit is the youngest man on the squad of the Giants Since he won his 250th game by restricting the Pirates to one hit, his old roomie and manager, Mel Ott, calls him his rookie.

"The guy's a wonder," Ott exclaimed. "He never told me a word about it but he's been foolin' around with a new pitch. He isn't sure what it is, a slider or a sailer, but he says he's been monkeying with it for some time and used it against the Pirates almost exclusively.

"How do you like that? You'd think at 40 he'd be buying himself some camphor balls and here he is experimenting with new stuff to keep him going. He's now won 250 and I wouldn't be surprised if he went on and made it 300. He'll probably come up with a new-fangled pitch when's he's 45.

It was in the locker room after he had reached the momentous milestone in a career which had endured more than 15 years, that Hub with a boy's grin disclosed the secret to his boss.

"He was happy as a kid just freed from school," Mel said, telling of it afterward. "He seldom says much at any time but there he was going about the room shaking hands with all the boys and talking a steady stream.

"I asked him about the pitch he had served Fletcher in the seventh, the one Elby knocked out of the park for the only hit of the game. Hub laughed and said:

"'I really don't know what it was, Mel. Sometimes I think it's a slider, other times it looks like a sailer. "I've been trying it out lately and I got to like it but apparently the Pirates didn't.

* * *

"I fooled Fletch those two other times he came up and I thought I'd use it on him again. Ernie (Lombardi) wanted me to throw him a screwball but I shook him off. Fletch wasn't fooled again. He gave it the full treatment'"

Fletcher Abashed.

Fletcher's hurricane hit after two Pirates had been retired obtained countrywide notoriety and patted Elby's pride but when photographers brought him into the joyful room to have his picture taken with Hub he felt like the boy who had just spilt ink on his mother's beautiful table cover.

Fletcher felt abashed because he had been made the subject of a strange coincidence. While the Giants were at bat in that same seventh wherein Fletcher was to play the role of despoiler, Ott was walked. As Lombardi prepared to bat, Mel and Elby talked of the great game Hub was pitching and Fletcher said: "If we have to lose I'd like to see the old buzzard get a no-hitter."

Batting Race Bit Congested

Curtwright Climbs To Top In Junior Loop.

NEW YORK—(AP)—The congestion on the trains and buses over the week-end could hardly have been worse than the jam in the batting averages at the top of the two major leagues today.

Out of the crowd emerged two new hitting leaders, Frank McCormick of the Cincinnati Reds in the National league and Rookie Guy Curtright of the Chicago White Sox in the American, but their margins over the pace-makers of previous weeks. Babe Dahlgren and Vernon Stephens, was as close as two persons going through a train door at the same time.

McCormick moved into first place with a .329 average after yesterday's games, just one point better than Dahlgren, the Phillies' star who slumped from .351 to .328 in a week. McCormick, although snagging the lead, skidded from a .336 average last week. Close behind this pair, Billy Herman of Brooklyn and Stan Musial of St. Louis were tied at .324.

In the American league Stephens, star shortstop of the St. Louis Browns, slipped from .342 to .333 and second place to yield the lead to Curtright. The White Sox outfielder skyrocketed into the lead late last week on the crest of a 26-game hitting streak that lifted his batting average to .362 last Thursday. But since then he too collapsed and today had a comparatively modest mark of .337.

Oris Hockett of Cleveland who a week ago was tied with Stephens at .342, dropped to .327 and third place.

Johnny Vander Meer earned his greatest fame by hurling his second consecutive no-hit game at Brooklyn in 1938 but he hasn't won a game at Ebbets Fiend since.

Fight manager Al Weill now owns the contract of young Lou Hanbury, Washington battler who outpointed NBA featherweight champion Jackie Caullura in a non-title fight.

Francis Ouimet won the National Open Golf championship in 1923 when he was only 20 years old.

TWO TIE FOR BLIND BOGEY AT COOLRIDGE

Mike Hammer and Jim Anderson tied for blind bogey honors at Coolridge golf course yesterday with cards of 88. Over 50 golfers competed in the tourney.

Joe Mayer shot an even par for the 18 holes, going under in the first nine and one over on the second for a 68.

160 Entered In Club Tourney

Travel Restrictions Keep Golfers at Home.

Gas regulations, travel restrictions and Independence day combined yesterday to bring out the biggest membership crowd of recent years to Westbrook Country club, proving again that it isn't necessary to drive many miles for holiday recreation.

There were 160 golfers entered in the two-ball mixed foursome match, at least 100 children in the swimming pool and that many more playing about the clubhouse and grounds.

* * *

H. R. Talmage and Mrs. Robert Stevens won the first blind bogey in the mixed foursomes with a card of 83, while tied for second at 84 were J. A. Lewin and Mrs. Grace Chamberlain, H. B. Soulen and Mrs. C. K. Novotny.

Low gross went to C. K. Novotny and Mrs. H. B. Soulen with 90.

Jean Herring won the prize for longest drive by women on No. 10 with a smack of 200 yards, and Thornton Lake took the driving prize for men on No. 9 with a clout of 300 yards.

Fred Herring and his daughter Jean won low total for the three short holes, 8-15-18, with 11 strokes. Highest gross for the tournament went to Earl Jones and Mrs. C. R. B. Harding with 139.

Best scores turned in during the day were by Bill Scott with 34-43—77 and Dwight Anneaux with 41-37—78.

O. S. R. Defeats Akron Leaders

Three Homers Help Beat Cuyahoga Falls.

Ohio State Reformatory baseball club reached the peak of its young season yesterday with a 9-7 victory over Cuyahoga Falls Moose, leaders in Akron's Class A league.

Visitors took a 5-1 lead with four in the third and one in the fourth, but O. S. R. came back with two runs in the last of the fourth, tied the score in the fifth, and won with three markers in the seventh.

* * *

Each team was held to eight hits, but errors were numerous, seven bobbles being chalked against the Falls, and four against O. S. R. for a total of 11.

Reformatory attack was helped by home runs by Blaney, Ritter and Carrigan.

Tribe Loses Twin Bill But Climbs In Standing

Indians Score One Unearned Run in 18 Frames Against A's

CLEVELAND—(AP)—After dropping from third to seventh place by not playing a doubleheader Sunday, and rising from seventh to sixth place by losing a doubleheader yesterday, the Cleveland Indians resort to after-dark play tonight in an effort to recoup from a tragic holiday week-end.

The Tribe scored one unearned run in 18 innings yesterday, losing 2 to 1 and 7-0 decisions to Philadelphia's last place Athletics.

Through the vagaries of the 1943 American league pennant race, however, the Indians rose to sixth place, over the also twice-beaten St. Louis Browns —by the margin of a single percentage point.

Connie Mack's lads stay on for a night game tonight and a matinee tomorrow.

Don Black and Luman Harris pitched the victories for Philadelphia yesterday, limiting the Tribe to four hits in each game. The Indians scored their lone run in the eighth inning of the first game, when the recently-hospitalized Hank Edwards tallied on a fielder's choice, a stolen base, a wild throw and a long fly.

Pete Suder homered in the third inning of the opener to start the A's and Bob Swift doubled in the eighth and scored on a single by Johnny Welaj to provide the winning margin.

The Macknen tallied in the second and sixth of the nightcap, the result of the only two hits given up by Vernon Kennedy in the five and a third innings he hurled. Al Milnar went out to the mound in the sixth after Kennedy walked three men in a row, forcing a run across the plate.

Milnar started the seventh with two passes and gave up singles to Harry Wagner, Dick Seibert and Bobby Estalella, which produced five runs before Pete Center could get out of the bullpen.

Jim Bagby lost the first game, his seventh defeat against seven victories. Kennedy, charged with the nightcap loss, also is all square with two and two.

SEEK FIRST WIN

BOSTON—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds attempt to win their first game of the season in Boston today after weather forced them to cancel yesterday's doubleheader with the Braves.

The Reds have yet to break into the win column under a Boston dateline because the Braves pasted them three straight on their only other visit to this city.

Manager Bill McKechnie said his mound choice lay between Ray Starr and Elmer Riddle. Casey Stengel said his man would be either Al Javery or Nate Andrews.

Calls Bivins Best Of Lot

Joe Louis Wants First Crack at Billy Conn.

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland, in the eyes of Sergeant Joe Louis, is the best of the heavyweight fighters active today.

But the Negro champion still considers Billy Conn, the handsome Pittsburgher who almost licked him in 1941, as his No. 1 challenged and declares, "he's the first fellow I want to meet when the war's over." He rates 23-year-old Tami Mauriello, of New York No. 3, among the men who would like to lift his crown.

Joe looked in perfect fighting trim, despite his 220 pounds, as he climbed into the ring here to referee three rounds of amateur boxing, with more than 10,000 persons lured to the bouts by his magic name.

"Sure I want to continue fighting but a lot depends on the war," Louis said. "There is a possibility it might retire me, but I don't want to say one way or the other."

About Bivins, Louis said: "Jimmy is a real good fighter who doesn't always put out all he's got. I've watched him and I could see in spots that he's got the stuff. He just seems to pace himself well enough to stay ahead of the other fellow."

If you ever need $25, $50, $100 or more quickly and simply, come to Household Finance. If you have a job so that you can repay in small monthly payments, you are welcome to apply for any amount up to $1000. The sooner you repay the less your loan costs. Example: A $50 loan repaid in 6 monthly instalments of $9.24 each costs $5.44—If repaid in one month the cost is only $1.50. No endorsers or guarantors are ever needed. We never make inquiries of friends or relatives.

STOCK LEADERS TAKE SLIGHTLY UPWARD TREND

Commercial Loans In Past Week Show Decline of $23,000,000.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK — Most leading stocks tilted moderately upward in today's early market transactions.

Gainers of fractions included U. S. Steel, Western Union, Radio Corp., American Smelting and American Water Works.

Studies for trend clues was the federal reserve compilation estimating loans to commerce, industry and agriculture by member banks in 101 cities for the week ended June 30 decreased $23,000,000.

CHICAGO —(AP)— All grain futures opened sharply higher today after the two-day holiday, influenced largely by action of the senate agricultural committee in recommending legislation which would permit sales of corn as high as $1.40 a bushel.

Wheat started ⅛-1 cent above Saturday's close. July $1.47¼-$1.47½, September $1.47-1.47¼, rye ¾-1¾ higher, July $1.08¼-$1.08½, and oats advanced ¼-⅞, July 68¼-68½c.

MANSFIELD NEWS IN BRIEF

Gasoline Stolen—Ed Spiess, upper Lucas road, told sheriff deputies Sunday a 50-gallon drum of gasoline had been stolen from his farm late Saturday night.

Office Burglarized—A burglar who pried the lock from a door at the office of Dr. C. H. Sanborn, 76 North Weldon avenue, Sunday night took two silver dollars, police were told yesterday.

Reports Loss — Paul Worley, Mock road, reported to the sheriff yesterday the loss of his son's bicycle, a pocket knife and small change at Armstrong's pool. The bicycle has a 26 inch frame and recently painted red, he said.

Gets $10 Fine—Pleading guilty in municipal court this morning to a charge of being drunk and disorderly LaDonna Callum, 33 Granite street, was fined $10 and costs. Police, who arrested her at 7:30 a. m. Sunday at Sixth and Main streets, said she was abusive toward the police department.

Plan Swim Party—The F. H. A. club of Union high school will hold a swimming party Monday evening, July 12, at Liberty park pool, it was announced today. In the event of inclement weather a roller skating party will be held at the Coliseum at North Lake park.

Hold Runaways—Two girls reported absent without leave from the National Youth administration training center at Charles Mill lake were located by Mansfield police yesterday at a hotel in the city and taken to the city jail. They were Edna Dunlap, 17 and Unis Brown, 18. The Dunlap girl is on parole from the state industrial school at Delaware, officials at the training center said.

ILL 2 WEEKS

H. M. Berkshire, Formerly Was Telegrapher In City.

Henry M. Berkshire, former railroad telegrapher at the Mansfield Pennsylvania railroad station died Sunday at 1:15 p. m., at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ed Glimpse in Marion. He had been ill two weeks.

Born in Gilmore, Tuscarawas county, April 12, 1866, he had lived in Bellefontaine for several years. He had lived with his daughter only two weeks.

Just Before U. S. Bombs Blew Up Jap Ship

A moment after this photo was taken, the Jap ship shown at top was blown up by two 500-pound bombs dropped from a U. S. Army Liberator off the coast of New Guinea. The lower of the two bombs (left) has just hit the water as the other bounces toward the target. A Jap anti-aircraft crew (arrow) is preparing to fire at the bomber. U. S. airmen call this type of attack skip-bombing.

Lum and Abner Appear.

Lum and Abner, popular radio characters, come to the screen of the Madison tomorrow in "Two Weeks To Live," which has as its theme the problem of earning $10,000 in two weeks. The trouble all begins when Abner inherits a railroad and envisions Pine Ridge as a flourishing railroad center. To further this plan, Lum and Abner collect the money from the willing residents of Pine Ridge, only to find that the railroad is practically useless. The Madison co-attraction is "Happy Serves A Writ," starring William Boyd as Hopalong Cassidy.

Paris Honeymoon.

Bing Crosby, famous crooner and equally famous horse race wizard, comes to the screen of the Ritz tomorrow in "Paris Honeymoon." Crosby is supported by Shirley Ross, Franciska Gaal and Akim Tamiroff. Rin Tin Tin III appears in the co-attraction, "Law of the Wolf."

WHAT'S WRONG WITH YOU?

Sunburn, mosquito bites, or "just plain heat rash..."

Cooling the burn out of sunburn is a heavenly pleasure. And easy, too. You simply sprinkle Mexsana well over irritated skin. This soothes, relieves, also protects against more irritation from chafe. Mexsana, formerly Mexican Heat Powder is not a talc, but a real medicated powder. Famous over 40 years for beating the heat of heat rash, protecting against chafe irritations, and taking the ouch out of itchy mosquito bites. Keep it handy and keep ahead of these summer miseries. It costs little and you make even greater savings in larger sizes. Get Mexsana.

ACTS TONIGHT ON CITY BUDGET

Council To Receive Petitions For Higher Police, Firemen Pay at Same Time.

Council also is expected to act tonight on proposals to increase the number of hours of free parking in the downtown section and to require Mansfield taxi firms to set up rate zones and post them with their charges in all cabs.

The first proposal would amend the parking meter ordinance to set the pay period on meters from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. daily except Sunday and holidays when there would be no charge at any time. The hours now are from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. five days a week and from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. Saturday.

By reducing the hours, council would automatically slash the city's income from meters.

Councilman George C. Kyle, sponsor of the taxi zone measure, said he had dropped his original proposal to set taxi rates and would ask council only to require taxi firms to establish uniform rate zones and post their zone maps and rates in all cars where patrons can see them.

Also scheduled for tonight's meeting is legislation to resurface East Fifth street from Main to the Pennsylvania tracks and final action on the South Main-Lexington avenue widening and resurfacing.

ELK TAKES OVER

ALAMOSA, Colo. —(INS)—The undisputed "King of the Highway," or at least the highways around Alamosa, seems to be a large and vociferous bull elk.

Mrs Bess Tharpe reported that as she drove along the highway near Silverton, a large elk thundered onto the road and forced her to stop.

The elk then backed up to her car, "kicked the daylights" out of her radiator and headlamps and departed disdainfully into the forest.

FILLS DEMANDS

AKRON — (INS) — Synthetic rubber tires made from alcohol today are rolling off the production lines at the Firestone Rubber company's Akron rubber plants, their destination—the farms of America.

Designed primarily for use as tractor tires, the new synthetic tires require nearly 600 pounds of corn to make the butadiene from which the synthetic processes stem.

DOUBLE RETURN ON 'AD'

RENO, Nev.—(U.P.)—Judge Clyde D. Stouter is marveling at the power of advertising. He lost his Great Dane dog and inserted an advertisement for its return. Not only did the Great Dane come back the next day, but it brought a Daschund with it. Now the judgde is advertising to get rid of the Daschund.

WYOMING DEATH BRINGS CHARGE

Ex-Asylum Inmate Faces Murder Count.

LARAMIE, Wyo. — (INS) — First degree murder charges were to be filed in Laramie today against Howard W. Pickell, formerly of Syracuse, N. Y., as a climax to one of the wildest chapters in the history of Wyoming crime.

Prosecuting Attorney Lenoir Bell said Pickell, a former inmate of the Dannemora, N. Y., State Hospital for the Criminally Insane, will be tried for the murder of Matt Katmo who was shot to death as he picked wild flowers in a camp ground near Laramie.

Bell said he also may file charges against Pickell in connection with the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Cota, widely known and respected ranchers of the Laramie district.

BACK IN PRISON

Bucyrus Fugitive Caught After Walking Away From London.

LONDON —(U.P.)— Robert Bittikofer, 33, Bucyrus, was back in London prison farm today, faced with the prospect of serving two additional years for walking away from the prison honor camp in August, 1941, when he had but four months and 12 days yet to serve.

Bittikofer was released to prison authorities from the Medina county jail where he was serving a sentence. Prison farm officials said he probably would be sent to the penitentiary in Columbus.

MANSFIELD, OHIO, TUESDAY, JULY 6, 1943.

Simplified spelling gets a boost as the women's auxiliary orps becomes a part of the regular army and WAAC hanges to WAC.

What ever became of that allowance of metal that was to e made so that some can openers could be manufactured? here are still no can openers available.

Good advice for everybody is given by Mary Steele Ross, riting on women in war: "Remember that the war effort as strong as its weakest point, and then stop being that oint."

Congress Votes To Abolish NYA

AGREEMENT by both houses of congress that the National Youth Administration should be wound up by he end of 1943 is another encouraging indication that, hen they see fit, congressmen and senators can act in esponse to public opinion instead of constantly catering to dministrative fancies.

The NYA was one of those depression-born relief organitions which reflected the paternalistic trend of social-orker influence in the executive branch of government, d which was carried through for eight years as a lucrative nture for its administrative personnel.

The tidy sum of $48,000,000 had been asked for NYA aintenance through the fiscal year ending June 30, 1944, d proponents argued that work of this organization was bsolutely essential" in training youths for war industry ork.

A majority of congressmen and senators thought otherse, however, and the NYA allowance has been put at ,000,000, for liquidation purposes.

While the talk in Washington has been largely devoted "billions," and this has now been expanded to "trillions." still impresses many people that "millions" are worth ving. This will become even more appreciated when works establish actual contact with the 20 per cent withholdg tax on their next pay day and estimate how many such ductions would be required to make a million dollars—even a thousand dollars.

Bureaucracies created to bridge over "emergencies" are easily done away with when the action means separan of thousands of people from public payrolls—but conss has shown that it can be done, and more of it should done.

ware of 'Wrong Way' Parkers

OW that it has become common practice in Mansfield for drivers of taxis, delivery trucks and many private s to cross to the left side of the street to make stops, hould at least become more generally understood that is AGAINST THE LAW, and that, in the event of dent resulting therefrom, the owner or operator of the icle at fault is liable for damages, in addition to being ishable for careless and negligent driving.

onvenience in making deliveries has resulted in trucks various business firms criss-crossing residence streets, obably encouraged by reduction in motor traffic and ence of any enforcement effort along this line.

recent occurrence in which the youthful driver of a very truck pulled out from the curb on the wrong side he street into the path of another car, which was conrably damaged, serves to direct attention to the danger lved in this practice and to justify the suggestion that pologetic attitude, rather than impudence, on the part he "wrong way" driver, is more becoming under such umstances.

nger In Deficit Spending

S A SEDATIVE to numb the fear of public debt, the people have been told that no harm could result from debt because the people merely owed it to themselves. arold G. Moulton, head of the Brookings Institution, has ked the "owe it to yourself" theory into a cocked hat in oklet entitled, "The New Philosophy of Public Debt." hows that those who pay taxes to support the debt are dentical with those who receive the interest on the debt he government bounties which the debt makes possible. hile the people may owe the public debt to themselves, man who is taxed to pay interest on the debt will soon the tax collector will take his shirt if he does not pay axes, to pay interest on a debt which he "owes to him-

. Moulton blasts the idea that public debt can go on ing forever without doing any harm. His remarks close to financial and economic advisors to the governand to the National Resources Planning Board.

makes it brutally clear that deficit spending and boundpublic debt lead either to totalitarianism or to debt liation, and that without "a stable system of public ce . . . in the United States, and also in other counthe foundation stone for international reconstruction rest on quicksand."

dern Frigates are Different

GATES are coming back. This is one of the most honred names in American naval history. The largest of warships after the ship of the line, it did manful e in early American history. The most famous exams the "Constitution." After the Civil war, both type ame disappeared.

the name is revived, but not the type. The modern e, according to the navy department, will be a small smaller even than a destroyer, with the function of g submarines and protecting convoys.

husiasts in naval history would like to see this famous used for more formidable craft, but are glad to have ved under any terms.

ch Deprived of 'Mein Kampf'

UT the last book anyone might expect the Nazis to ppress would be Hitler's "Mein Kampf." Yet the as gone out that this may no longer be sold in France. ason is not stated. It might be thought too frank a ion of Nazi intentions, but why should the Nazis hat the French think?

ever, at least the French get a break. In Germany mily not having Hitler's masterpiece on the parlor in the place once reserved for the Bible, would hear it from the Gestapo.

Taft Supporter Explains Strategy

By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON — Friends of Senator Robert A. Taft are doing little to hide their satisfaction over reports that Governor John W. Bricker is "slipping" as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. There is more political "know how" in the Taft camp than in all the others put together. There was in 1939 and 1940, working towards the Philadelphia convention. It is still there.

The Taft people, for instance, realize that it is 'still too early to take the blankets off their horse.

"Is it true that Bricker is slipping?" the writer asked a strong Taft man.

"Yes," said the Taft man, "but for heaven's sake can't you find something else to write about?"

"Maybe," I replied, "but what do you care. I should think you would like a story that Bricker was slipping, providing it obviously did not come from your side."

"It's too soon," he said. "We want to wait a long time. For one thing we have an obligation to do so. The senator has said he was for Bricker, so we can't have his friends shedding crocodile tears in public over Bricker's failure to make the grade. But there is a more important reason. It's too soon for Taft to go out in front. There is too much time remaining in which he would be the target for the guns of every other candidate. He would be riddled before the convention assembled. As a matter of fact we are genuinely sorry that Bricker is slipping—so soon. It would have been much better for Taft if Bricker had not started slipping until about next December.

WHAT makes you think Taft would be the target if Bricker slipped?" I asked. "What about Wendell Willkie, and Governor Thomas E. Dewey? There is more talk about either one of them than about Bricker and Taft put together."

The Taft lieutenant looked bored.

"Willkie is marching in the footprints made by Dewey four years ago," he explained patiently. "He may even win some primaries, as Dewey did, though I do not think he will do as well, proportionately. But when he gets to the convention he will have no more strength than Dewey did. He will not be able to control his delegates, for the simple reason that the delegates themselves, and the men who control delegates, are fed up with him.

"They think he made a mess of his campaign in 1940. They think he can charm people, but that they don't stay charmed long enough to get their ballots marked. They think he is more like William Jennings Bryan than any other politician they can think of, save that Bryan had a tougher throat. Bryan did better without a microphone than Willkie did with one."

"But how about Dewey?"

"Dewey may be able to get the nomination this time if he should change his mind and decide to take it. We don't think he will. We think he means it when he says he wants to serve out his term as governor of New York. It makes sense, especially as he is young enough to wait. He is making a good record as governor and will grow stronger with every passing year. He knows that.

"Personally I think Dewey will succeed Taft as president in January, 1953. Taft will not seek a third term."

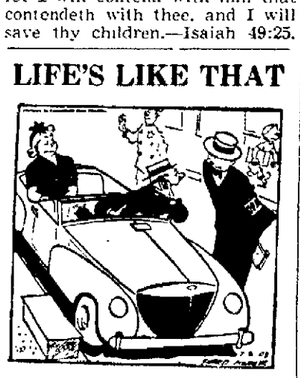
Daily Bible Thought

But thus saith the Lord, Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy children.—Isaiah 49:25.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT



"You wouldn't exactly call it pleasure driving!"

Dave Boone Says:

WELL, you only had to take one quick look at any railroad station to realize that the American public is determined to enjoy its holidays.

Joe Eastman, head of the government transportation office, asked all Americans to help the war effort by keeping off the trains over the Fourth of July, but asking them to listen to him was like expecting them to read the fine print on the back of a railroad ticket or baggage check.

It was every man for himself and every woman for her right to take part in a football scrimmake when she so desires. The trains were so crowded that Mr. Eastman, if he went anywhere, probably had to walk or else stand up in the caboose.

Of course, Joe operates a little more tolerantly than those OPA fellows.

If the OPA had been in charge of holiday travel it would have had agents badgering the travelers in every ticket line, suspending their rights to go swimming and putting the whole question of whether a three days' rest is legal into the hands of seven more boy lawyers.

As Others See It

Why, the Very Idea!

Isn't it fraud and taking money under false pretense when a dumb man wins an office by pretending he is capable of handling it?—Akron Beacon Journal.

Timely Editorial

Not Everyone Is Richer.

"I have no inflationary gap," says the writer of a letter to the New York Times. His observation is apropos of the recent statement by President Roosevelt that a 35-billion-dollar "inflationary gap" between national income and purchasable goods must be at least partly absorbed by enforced savings and higher taxes.

The correspondent points out that he is one of those individuals whose gross income has been stationary, while higher income taxes, the victory tax, war bond purchases and the higher cost of living have shrunk his available dollars.

His point is simply this—and we think it is a good one:

When additional taxes are levied to close the "inflationary gap," let congress and the administration remember that a large group of citizens has not shared in the increased income. Let the new levies be directed in such a way as to absorb the loose dollars but not dig deeper into the shrinking resources of those who have not enjoyed the financial bonanzas of war.—Akron Beacon Journal.

One-Minute Test.

1. What is, in normal times, celebrated in France on July 14?
2. What two members of the president's cabinet have their own flags?
3. Describe the president's flag, and those of the members of the cabinet.

Words of Wisdom.

Principles, like troops of the line, are undisturbed, and stand fast.—Richter.

Hints on Etiquette.

Don't start smoking a cigaret, then lay it down and let it burn, choking the others present. Put it out if you are not going to finish smoking it.

One-Minute Test Answers.

1. Bastile day, when the populace of Paris stormed the Bastile and liberated the prisoners.
2. The secretary of war and the secretary of the navy.
3. The president's flag consists of the president's seal in bronze upon a blue background, with a large white star in each corner. The secretary of the navy's flag has a white "fouled" anchor in the center and a white star in each corner. The secretary of war's flag is scarlet, a white star in each corner and the United States coat of arms in the center.

Wallace Got Advance Permission From FDR to Blast Jesse Jones

WASHINGTON—Real inside fact about the row between Jesse Jones and Vice President Wallace was that the vice president cleared his vitriolic statement with his chief in the White House before hurling it at the president's secretary of commerce.

Actually, the president did not see the press release which the vice president prepared for the newspapers. But he did know all about it. Henry went to see him on Saturday, June 26, and told him in detail how he had labored patiently with Jones and how month after month, Jesse had held back and quibbled over details.

The vice president also told his chief how Jesse had been up on Capitol Hill lobbying with senators to try to undercut the president's own order making the Board of Economic Warfare supreme over Jesse Jones in ordering strategic materials abroad.

He told how he had exercised all sorts of patience, but believed the only thing to do was to blast Jesse publicly.

The president listened, gave the vice president the green light.

Wallace also sent his statement to the Office of War Information before giving it to the press. He followed all the rules meticulously. The Office of War Information even sent the statement on to the White House with its OK, before it was published, though it was sent merely for White House information. The president did not read it in advance.

Note: Wallace has cooperated with the president in almost every move he has made since 1940. The two men work as a team. Wallace even consulted the president before issuing a statement blasting Martin Dies, and he didn't have to be a mind-reader to have known how little FDR loved the Dies committee.

Capital Chaff.

THERE was a time when you had to come from Harvard and live east of the Allegheny Mountains to get ahead in the state department. But now the state department has just appointed as American minister to Iraq, efficient Loy Henderson, born in Arkansas, reared in Kansas and son of a midwest preacher. He knows what it is to know the U. S. A.—as well as the Near East. . . . Rives Matthews, the Maryland editor who was indicted for criminal libel because he exposed a state official for driving to Georgia for his son's wedding, has been deluged with so much congratulatory mail he can't answer it all. He even got advertisements for his paper ribbing Maryland politicos on their waste of gasoline. . . . Inside reports from Spain indicate that hatred and bitterness is seething against Dictator Franco, the man put into office by Hitler and Musollini with the tacit blessing of our reactionary diplomatic clique.

Chester Davis for V. P.

IT DIDN'T figure in the main reasons for the White House firing of Food Czar Chester Davis, but the talk about Davis's vice-presidential ambitions didn't help him any.

One trouble with Davis seems to be that he's smitten with a virulent case of vice-presidentitis. Friends say he is bitten bad, fancies himself as an independent, mid-west, farmers' candidate for the vice-presidency next year.

Chester is definitely on the outs with the two other vice-presidential possibilities. He and Vice President Wallace used to be close friends. For years Davis served under Henry when he was secretary of agriculture. But after he became food czar, Davis did not set foot in Wallace's office.

Other potential possibility is Jimmy Byrnes, with whom Davis has rowed constantly.

Although a Democrat, Davis served for a Republican administration in Montana when he was commissioner of agriculture and marketing in 1921-25. Later he served under ardent Republican farm leader Earl Smith in Illinois.

So maybe Chester is ambidextrous and can run on either ticket. Anyway a lot of Republicans are for him since he has been causing so much grief to FDR.

No German Sausage.

THE DIPLOMATS' grapevine reports that the German food supply is running low. A new cut has been made in the meat ration. This, coming at a time when the greatest muscle must be exerted in defense of the Vaterland, is expected to be a severe blow to German morale.

The basic ration of meat for normal uses was 400 grams at this time last year. But now the ration has been cut to 250 grams—which is about half a pound per week, including fat and bone. An effort is being made to compensate this reduction by the substitution of cheese and groats, (hulled and crushed oats or wheat). During the winter, however, it was reduced to 300 grams. In the spring the cut was partially restored, when the ration was moved up to 350 grams, recognizing the necessity of more nourishment with the coming of the season of greater military activity.

Farmer's Diary

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE BEAN FIELD

OUR SOYBEANS are up. Eighteen acres—or a little more—are greening rapidly. Every evening when I go to look across the fields against the waning sun, I see with pleasure the progress of a single day. Long drill rows that appear six inches apart where I stand, converge far in the distance in a broad plain of wavy green.

The young plants are out of danger now since they have pulled their seed leaves above the soil without damage. A hard dashing rain just after planting may ruin a bean crop by forming a crust. A bean sprouts and splits, pushing the two halves above ground as the first leaves. Too hard a crust may break these tender seed leaves and the damage cannot be repaired.

The soil of our field was hard and dry when plowed and fitted. We used a disk and heavy drag behind it, to level and pulverize the clods. The seed bed in most places, became like soft, aerated dust. When it settled overnight, moisture gathered rapidly.

Into this the beans were drilled. The tractor and the broad 16-hoe drill stirred up a cloud of dust that at times blotted out the driver and moving tools. Next morning when I went out early to investigate the soil, I found it very warm and beans that had been in the ground only one night had begun to swell surprisingly. In less than three days I could see small lines of green within the hollows.

Next evening a storm came suddenly across the ridges from north, and blew a gale. Whirl winds of dust rose as high as the tall elms along Honey Creek. The top soil of our bean field for a half hour or so drifted on the wind toward the south.

I thought of the Dust Bowl where rich topsoil blew thousands of miles, and veiled the sun to a small red disk at mid day. I thought of the homes destroyed and the farmers ruined. That cannot happen here, where irregular wooded hills protect the cultivated land, but the power of a driving wind over loose dusty soil was graphically shown in our own small instance.

It rained, then, slow and steady dropping that aided germination. Practically every seed came up. It is commonly believed that soybeans are free from blight and insect pests. But at Wooster, the bacteriologists are studying a blight that gives seed a dull gray covering. Such seed, if planted, has poor germination and spreads the disease to growing stalks.

If frost comes late and the weather is not too dry, I hope to combine a profitable crop. Then, if I can, I will drill the soil to rye for cover crop and try beans again next year.

Here's Close-up of How Red Cross Works; Hospital Service Leads In Importance.

NORTH AFRICA—(By Wireless)—The Red Cross has a few critics but they are few indeed. The wonder is that it gets its job done at all, considering the conditions under which it has to work.

When the Red Cross opens up in a new war theater its growth has to be as fast as the growth of the army. The way clubs spring up overnight in newly occupied centers, the way restaurants and dances and movies and clubmobiles and hospital workers mushroom into life all over a new country, is something that still astounds me.

Bill Stevenson, the Red Cross' delegate to Africa, wouldn't admit this himself, but actually his job is to do things for the army in spite of the army.

Not that anybody is against the Red Cross. It isn't that. But the Red Cross has depended on the army for a great many things—for jeeps, and boat priorities, and requisitioned buildings, and permissions of many kinds—and each of these is guarded by some individual whose job is to conserve things for strictly military use. The result is a fine art of wheedling on the part of Mr. Stevenson. But things do get done.

WE who have written about the Red Cross in the past have usually centered upon the fine clubs it operates in all the big centers where troops are stationed. And yet actually—and I didn't know this until a few days ago—the club part comes third in the list of things the Red Cross does in Africa.

First and foremost is the hospital program. The Red Cross has women workers with every hospital in this theater—five each at the big ones, three at the smaller ones.

Second is the field program. This is run by men, who live and work with combat outfits. They dole out books, towels, toilet sets, writing paper—all the little things the soldiers lose in battle. They are horns of plenty and father confessors and Johnny Fixer-Uppers.

They are the ones who wire home to see if Pvt. Joe Smith has become a papa yet. They bring the sad news that a soldier's mother has died at home. They talk things over and get a neglectful boy to write home.

Through these field workers the soldiers have direct contact with America in case of family emergency.

It's surprising the number of cases they handle. Every day 250 cables and 300 letters start across the ocean, solving soldiers problems—it takes seven American girl stenographers typing constantly to keep these messages flowing.

The field men conduct 26,000 interviews a month with soldiers, advising them about allotments and other things.

The most spectacular Red Cross activity, although third on the program, is the club service. Today the Red Cross has more than 40 clubs in North Africa. These aren't just little reading-room affairs—they're hotels of four or five stories, serving meals, providing beds, and equipped with snack bars, lounge rooms, dances, and movies. Running all this is in a minor way the same as running an army. It's a terrifically big business.

The Red Cross has 365 Americans over here now, and 100 more are due shortly. It has hundreds of local employes. Sixty per cent of the Americans are women.

NO MATTER what deep services the Red Cross may perform, Stevenson says it's the touch of femininity that does soldiers the most good. Despite his metropolitan background Bill had been naive all his life about the influence that women wield in this world. He has found out in Africa.

Bumpy (Mrs. Stevenson) laughs and says that's the outstanding thing Bill has learned in his war career—he has awakened to the powerful existence of womanhood.

He has found it out in two ways—one, the touching approval and desire of the soldiers for female companionship, even if it consists of nothing more than standing and looking at an American girl behind a counter; and two, the rather laughable troubles he has with his staff in matters of the heart.

Bill has what he calls "colonel trouble". It seems his gals are always getting engaged to colonels. You'd thing a man old enough to be a full colonel would either be well married and settled or else determined to be an old bachelor. But no. Colonels moon around the Red Cross workers like country swain, and the first thing you know they're betrothed, begorra.

There's no rule against Red Cross girls getting married while overseas, but there is a rule that they can't be stationed in the same area as their husbands. One general who has a colonel about to get married on him says he will consent only on condition that they will be stationed a thousand miles apart.

Bill Stevenson wonders whether it's going to be the general's duty to keep the colonel-husband away from his wife, or his (Bill's) duty to keep the Red Cross wife away from her husband. I suggest that Bill and the General make up a pot between them and hire a small Arab boy to stand watch.
